

TripActions Launches Enterprise Edition to Help Large Global Organizations Protect Their Travelers and Control Costs on Path to Business Recovery

September 9, 2020

Enterprise leaders rank TripActions #1 in G2 Grid® for Enterprise Travel Management with 98% satisfaction score—14 percentage points higher than second-ranked solution

PALO ALTO, CA, September 9, 2020 – TripActions, the leading corporate travel and expense management platform, announced today the launch of the TripActions Enterprise Edition. Two years in the making, TripActions Enterprise Edition gives business leaders a comprehensive, unified T&E solution combining the best booking experience, robust global inventory, expert 24/7 TMC travel agent service, and modern payments and expense tech—all from a single, trusted partner.

“TripActions Enterprise Edition offers powerful capabilities previously only available to enterprises by stitching together multiple, disparate legacy technologies,” noted Ariel Cohen, co-founder & CEO, TripActions. “With TripActions Enterprise Edition, CFOs and travel leaders no longer have to compromise between cost control and traveler safety. They can boost traveler satisfaction and productivity, drive safety and compliance, and make their T&E program efficient and cost-effective with modern enterprise T&E management from TripActions.”

“We selected TripActions for their vision for modern enterprise T&E management and their mission-driven focus on supporting the needs of our employees in North America,” said Sandra Broughton, Corporate Vice President, Travel at AECOM.

“With its cloud-based infrastructure, scalable technology and leading business continuity and duty of care features, TripActions is the right T&E platform for today’s enterprise,” said Andrew Davis, Chief Human Resources and Inclusion Officer at Lennar. “TripActions provides the technology, expertise and partnership we need to deliver a world-class corporate T&E program that empowers all of our Associates to achieve our business objectives.”

With the launch of TripActions Enterprise Edition, more organizations are making the switch to modern T&E management. The move across enterprises large and small comes after many found themselves unprepared for COVID-19 as a result of the limitations of their existing, antiquated travel management company and tools. These enterprises recognize the mission-critical importance of working with a trusted T&E partner who delivers real-time data and insights, paired with flexible, scalable travel and expense management technology and a full service global TMC—all to protect travelers and control costs on the path to business recovery.

Today’s rapidly evolving environment requires a change from the status quo The events of today call for organizations to be agile, flexible and focused on employee safety while saving money. TripActions Enterprise Edition delivers modern cloud technology to serve the needs of today’s global enterprises, including:
